Just flagged up to Tom - the link isn't working to the Viral Examiner debunking of the half-naked sunbather... links to the original stories work fine though. Can someone send over while I plough through?

FYI about a small item in the grand scheme of things: it looks like the story will go live after it's public that I'm on staff. So you may want to add in the line now that says I recently joined BuzzFeed full-time (though this work predated that). I will be getting the folks in NY to change my byline from Contributor to Canada editor, or something to that effect. So it will show up that way when we publish. I'm fully online and available if you need anything else from me.
