an update on that CEN piece. Craig Silverman's pretty busy until close to Christmas (the 19th, actually), and there's a LOT of stuff in here to cover.
Specifically, it looks like we're going to have to dive into Weibo, the Chinese social network, which we think is where they're sourcing a lot of their images (then dressing them up with fake quotes, etc.) Craig's also having some dev work done on the Emergent backend so we can use it as a research tool.\n\nAnyway, long story short, there's maybe 40 individual things here to verify, many of them in Mandarin, and with Craig not able to give it his full attention until after the 19th we think we should push our proposed publication date back into January. I don't think it'll mean we actually spend any more work hours on it in total, just that they'll be more spread out and we'll have a better chance of making sure that we're certain of our facts and won't get sued to hell and back...\n",
